

“Lake Forest Graduate School of Management Students Get The Big Picture”

The Customer

Eric Spanitz, President of Synergist Inc., Management Consultant & Trainer, Chicago, Illinois

The Challenge

Communicating the big picture of project management to students in the REAL Project Management workshop in the Project Management Certificate Program at Lake Forest Graduate School of Management.

The Solution

Eric created interactive workshops on project and quality management, which are used in the Project Management Certificate Program of Lake Forest Graduate School of Management. Attendees of this Certificate program receive a copy of Project KickStart as part of their course materials.

Eric says "Using Project KickStart during the REAL Project Management workshop allows us to present both project management concepts and techniques, while the participants are guided through the process of setting up schedules. Without Project KickStart, the participants would lose the big picture."

The Benefits

Brian Nielsen and his team find Project Kickstart helps most by providing:

- * Simplifies communication of project management concepts and techniques
- * Educational discount makes it cost-effective for students
